LANCASTER GIVES VIEWS REGARDING RAIL STRIKE

Receiver Lancaster of Texas & Pacific Railway Gives Figures on the Present Strike in Regard to Wages and Responsibility to the U. S. Labor Board and the Public.

(By Associated Press)

Dallas, Texas, July 12.—The nation-wide strike of union shopmen is agains the government, functioning through the Railroad Labor Board and is therefore a strike against the public and its paramount interests, declared Receiver J. L. Lancaster, of the Texas & Pacific railway today, commenting on the present strike situation. "Not only this," continued Mr. Lancaster, "but this strike regardless of he outcome, must be paid for by the public, and it is only fair, therefore, that the public, which must bear the expense and inconveniences, understands some of the fundamentals underlying the strike." Mr. Lancaster called attention to the act that the Railroad Labor Board, a governmental agency on which the public has equal representation with the railroads and the employees, and which is empowered by the Transportation Act to hear and decide disputes between the roads and their employees, had spent months hearing representatives of the roads and the employees, in an effort to determine what would constitute "just and reasonable wages" under existing conditions, and that the decision finally handed down, cutting the rates of pay of several classes of employees, was signed by all three of the public representatives on the board, and that therefore, Mr. Lancaster declared the present strike is against the rulings made by the governmental agency, concurred in by the direct representatives of the public.

"In their ultimatum to the Rail Labor Board," said Mr. Lancaster, "labor leaders put the situation bluntly, when they said: 'We hold without reservation that the board has made a blunder in interpreting the intent of the Transportation Act. As the matter now stands, there is no provision in the law providing for an appeal of any kind against a decision of your body, however mistaken or unfair it may be. Your decisions have been submitted to a strike vote of our members and we are awaiting the results of their action. Should our members decide not to accept your decisions or, in other words, to strike, we shall sanction their action.'"

"In other words, the government, representing the public, decreed, that after a thorough investigation the wages of certain classes of employees should be slightly reduced because of the decrease in the cost of living and in the wages being paid for comparable work in other industries."

Mr. Lancaster also referred to the statement made in the Board's decision cutting the wages of certain classes of shop employees from five to nine cents an hour reading as follows: "The Labor Board is of the opinion that after the reductions made under its decision, shop employees on the railroads will still be receiving, as a rule, a wage in excess of that while the cost in living is now seventeen per cent higher than it was in December 1917; the average hourly rate of machinists under the new scale would be 39 percent higher, and of carmen 70 percent higher than in 1917, thus enabling these employees to purchase far more over under present higher costs, than they could in December 1917."

Mr. Lancaster stated that a similar situation existed with regard to so-called common or track and shop labor, the Rail Labor Board's statistics showing that whereas the common laborer's average hourly rate is December 1917 was nineteen cents it is 32 cents under the new rule, an increase of 69 percent while the increased cost of living as against December 1917 is but 17 percent, showing that the purchasing power of the common laborer's wage under the new date is 44 percent greater than it was in December 1917. "From the above facts," Mr. Lancaster concluded, "which were set out in the Board's decision having been arrived at by absolutely impartial analysis and concurred in by all three of the public's representatives on the board, the only conclusion that can be reached is that the present strike is against a fair decision against the governmental body which rendered it, and against the government and law under which it was promulgated."

Austin, Texas, July 12.—Four indictments against Sheriff A. W. Bonds of Bell county returned by Travis county grand jury allege that from November, 1920, to April, 1922, Bonds collected, as criminal fees $13,763.10 as compared with $1985 for Lee O. Allen, the sheriff of Williamson county. The indictments allege that Bonds collected fees at a cost of $3.30 per mile for 22 negroes he claimed to have removed from Temple to Belton, 10 miles when the sheriff's own record is alleged to have shown the negroes were in jail at Belton.

MANY SIGNED BONDS
Temple, Tex., July 12.—Scores of prominent Bell county citizens Monday signed bail for Sheriff A. W. Bonds, indicted last week by the Travis county grand jury on four counts charging extortion in connection with mileage fees. Bail in each count was set at $500. Officer Deputy Tom Sanders also, is under indictment on two counts of a similar nature. Details of the alleged offenses have not been made public here. Sheriff Bonds late Tuesday night issued a formal statement in which he asserted his innocence and declared that he had been "framed" by political enemies. He previously had been exonerated by a Bell county grand jury.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING IS BEST ASSET

"Newspaper advertising is the best," a well known business man in Dallas remarked the other day. "The newspaper is read at the very time the people desire to read it and the news and advertising is read at regular intervals by the family. Other advertising such as bill boards, road signs and other signs become unsightly and many counties in Texas are going to prohibit having them placed along the roads. The main reason newspaper advertising is the best and only real advertising is because it is placed where it can be seen when desired. The merchants, business men, banks and professional men will find that a well supported newspaper is the best asset a town can have so far as the outside world is concerned. That it pays to advertise is a fact as it developed that one firm in Dallas spent in 1921 more money for newspaper advertising ($15,000) than every business man in a town of 3,000 people spent that year. The result was most of the business of the small town went to Dallas because the people read the advertisements. Bill boards, advertising schemes that do not circulate is not advertising. They are a sort of graft that ruins the newspaper business and hurts the business of the smaller towns. Merchants in the smaller towns would do well to learn a lesson from the merchants in the larger towns who have grown rich through newspaper advertising. No business is too small or too large to advertise in the newspapers which are the best advertising medium ever invented."

SAVING BUSINESS MEN FROM GROUP OF FAIRIES

(Burleson County Ledger)

The Ledger would call attention of the Commercial Club to an item appearing in the Bryan Eagle last Thursday where the advertising committee of the club saved the business men of that town several hundred dollars by turning down "fake" advertising schemes of transient people who tried to work the business men there and we ask that the council pass an ordinance requiring all such people to have a permit before they solicit these things in our city. The item referred to follows: "Secretary S. E. Edwards, acting for the Bryan Chamber of Commerce Advertising committee, turned down two scholarship schemes Saturday morning after investigation showing the proposition was a fake. Another man was soliciting funds for alleged charitable organization and had no credentials was refused an endorsement to operate on the people of Bryan. Another solicitor who wanted a large sum of money to get up a highway booklet and another who desired to get up menu cards at the expense of the business interests of Bryan when there was no merits in the proposition were turned down. The action of the committee saved the over-taxed business men about $1,000 and also protected the good name of the town. All these schemes were practically worthless and without warrant and are only a detriment to legitimate advertising and legitimate business."

SCHOOL AND PAVING BONDS ADOPTED BY BRYAN VOTE OF 5 TO 1

The election for additional school and paving bonds in Bryan held Tuesday resulted in 5 to 1 for the bonds. The proposition was to issue $42,000 in bonds to be divided $10,000 for repairing the East Side school building and $32,000 to be spent for new paving in addition to the present paving which adds so much to the desirability of Bryan as a residence town. The vote Tuesday was light and was as follows:

For school bonds	253
Against school bonds	52
For paving bonds	251
Against paving bonds	54

City Manager McAdams states that the City Commission will meet Friday night to canvass the election returns and declare the result. The record will then be submitted to Attorney General Keeling at Austin and the whole question will be pushed so that work on street paving will begin before winter. City Manager McAdams states that there are already seven miles of paving in Bryan and that the issue will be about 1-2 miles according to the width of the streets paved. Public improvements home building, school improvements always add to the prosperity of the community because the money goes into something lasting and substantial. Recently the voters accepted a $25,000 school bond issue which will be used to repair the West Side school and a report by the architect will be complete in a few days. The Bryan School Board and the City Commission are working diligently on the plans under direction of Mayor Haswell and President Henderson.

BODIES OF HOMER AND ALLEN REPERT LOCKED IN DEATH-SLEEP

Dr. R. R. Reppert, who was in Fredericksburg, when the message came to him of the drowning of his little sons, Homer, aged 12 years, and Allen, aged 10 years, in Wixom creek arrived home on his sad mission at 4:15 o'clock Wednesday morning. Arrangements had been made and the bodies were shipped on the noon H. & T. C. railway train for Valley Falls, Kansas, where they will be accompanied by Dr. and Mrs. Reppert and buried at the old home. The children, Homer and Allen, were born in Korea where Dr. Reppert was a medical missionary before coming to A. & M. College where Dr. Reppert is an entomologist in the Extension Service. Mrs. Reppert had allowed the boys to go out in the country on all-day outing but had warned them not to go in the water. In their zeal and fun-making the boys wandered further than they expected and went into the Wixom creek pool on the Reliance road about four miles east of Bryan where the tragedy occurred.

Story of The Rescue.

Ralph Dunn, who with Jess Conlee, rescued the bodies of Homer and Allen, called at the Eagle office and told of the finding of the bodies in the pool. They had been in the water about three hours when recovered Tuesday afternoon after 12 o'clock. A negro boy, John Wilson, accompanied Homer and Allen on the jaunt but would not go in the water. When Allen plunged in and went over the ledge into the water about 8 feet deep, Homer leaped after him and grasped his younger brother never to come up alive. The negro ran to a farm house and gave the alarm over the telephone but by the time a rescue party could get there, about three hours time had elapsed. Mr. Dunn stated that he held a pole into the water and Mr. Conlee dived down and found the little bodies locked in each others' embrace when they were brought up to surface. It was indeed a sad sight to witness the two little bodies cold in death lying side by side just as if they were sleeping. Only a few days ago Allen came to the Eagle office and said he would be glad to deliver papers in the afternoon. He was a bright child and his name was taken for service as soon as there was a vacancy. He often called at the office and made friends with everybody he met. The Eagle extends its deepest sympathy to the sorrowing parents "as they pass under the rod."

While driving in their car returning from Bremond near Calvert Wednesday morning in an automobile accident Margaret, the five year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mills P. Walker got her right thigh fractured. Margaret was brought to the Bryan Hospital and is now at home doing very well.

Marlin, Texas, July 12.—Held up and robbed of her hair by two strange men, one of whom was dressed in woman's attire, was the experience of Mrs. Newt Cole who lives in the Pleasant Grove community near Marlin. News of the affair has just reached this city.

Took Place Saturday

Saturday afternoon about 3 o'clock two men drove up to the Cole residence while Mr. Cole was absent and claimed to be selling face powder. Gaining an audience with Mrs. Cole on the pretext of showing the efficacy of their preparation, one of the men drew a pistol and commanded Mrs. Cole to remain seated while the other drew a pair of shears and bobbed the hair from Mrs. Cole's head.

Threaten to Kill Her

Under threat that she would be killed if she made an outcry, Mrs. Cole was ordered to remain seated in the chair for 30 minutes after they re-entered their car and sped away. Mrs. Cole is reported to have had very beautiful hair. It is also stated that two men, believed to be the same ones, had been in the community some time ago, and remarked that "hair like Mrs. Cole's was worth $40." Parties think they can identify the men if seen again.

Austin, Texas, July 12.—Four indictments against Sheriff A. W. Bonds of Bell county returned by Travis county grand jury allege that from November, 1920, to April, 1922, Bonds collected, as criminal fees $13,763.10 as compared with $1985 for Lee O. Allen, the sheriff of Williamson county. The indictments allege that Bonds collected fees at a cost of $3.30 per mile for 22 negroes he claimed to have removed from Temple to Belton, 10 miles when the sheriff's own record is alleged to have shown the negroes were in jail at Belton.

MANY SIGNED BONDS

Temple, Tex., July 12.—Scores of prominent Bell county citizens Monday signed bail for Sheriff A. W. Bonds, indicted last week by the Travis county grand jury on four counts charging extortion in connection with mileage fees. Bail in each count was set at $500. Officer Deputy Tom Sanders also is under indictment on two counts of a similar nature. Details of the alleged offenses have not been made public here. Sheriff Bonds late Tuesday night issued a formal statement in which he asserted his innocence and declared that he had been "framed" by political enemies. He previously had been exonerated by a Bell county grand jury.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING IS BEST ASSET

"Newspaper advertising is the best," a well known business man in Dallas remarked the other day. "The newspaper is read at the very time the people desire to read it and the news and advertising is read at regular intervals by the family. Other advertising such as bill boards, road signs and other signs become unsightly and many counties in Texas are going to prohibit having them placed along the roads. The main reason newspaper advertising is the best and only real advertising is because it is placed where it can be seen when desired. The merchants, business men, banks and professional men will find that a well supported newspaper is the best asset a town can have so far as the outside world is concerned. That it pays to advertise is a fact as it developed that one firm in Dallas spent in 1921 more money for newspaper advertising ($15,000) than every business man in a town of 3,000 people spent that year. The result was most of the business of the small town went to Dallas because the people read the advertisements. Bill boards, advertising schemes that do not circulate is not advertising. They are a sort of graft that ruins the newspaper business and hurts the business of the smaller towns. Merchants in the smaller towns would do well to learn a lesson from the merchants in the larger towns who have grown rich through newspaper advertising. No business is too small or too large to advertise in the newspapers which are the best advertising medium ever invented."

SAVING BUSINESS MEN FROM GROUP OF FAIRIES

(Burlington County Ledger)

The Ledger would call attention of the Commercial Club to an item appearing in the Bryan Eagle last Thursday where the advertising committee of the club saved the business men of that town several hundred dollars by turning down "fake" advertising schemes of transient people who tried to work the business men there and we ask that the council pass an ordinance requiring all such people to have a permit before they solicit these things in our city. The item referred to follows: "Secretary S. D. [unclear], acting for the Bryan Chamber of Commerce Advertising committee, turned down two scholarship schemes Saturday morning after investigation showing the proposition was a fake. Another man was soliciting funds for alleged charitable organization and had no credentials was refused an endorsement to operate on the people of Bryan. Another solicitor who wanted a large sum of money to get up a highway booklet and another who desired to get up menu cards at the expense of the business interests of Bryan when there was no merits in the proposition were turned down. The action of the committee saved the over-taxed business men about $1,000 and also protected the good name of the town. All these schemes were practically worthless and without warrant and are only a detriment to legitimate advertising and legitimate business."

SCHOOL AND PAVING BONDS ADOPTED BY BRYAN VOTE OF 5 TO 1

The election for additional school and paving bonds in Bryan held Tuesday resulted in 5 to 1 for the bonds. The proposition was to issue $42,000 in bonds to be divided $10,000 for repairing the East Side school building and $32,000 to be spent for new paving in addition to the present paving which adds so much to the desirability of Bryan as a residence town. The vote Tuesday was light and was as follows:

For school bonds	253
Against school bonds	52
For paving bonds	251
Against paving bonds	54

City Manager McAdams states that the City Commission will meet Friday night to canvass the election returns and declare the result. The record will then be submitted to Attorney General Keeling at Austin and the whole question will be pushed so that work on street paving will begin before winter. City Manager McAdams states that there are already seven miles of paving in Bryan and that the issue will be about 1 1/2 miles according to the width of the streets paved. Public improvements home building, school improvements always add to the prosperity of the community because the money goes into something lasting and substantial. Recently the voters accepted a $25,000 school bond issue which will be used to repair the West Side school and a report by the architect will be complete in a few days. The Bryan School Board and the City Commission are working diligently on the plans under direction of Mayor Haswell and President Henderson.

PIKE WAS WOUNDED FOR WORKING-MANY OTHERS ARE INJURED

(Special to The Eagle).

Denison, Texas, July 12.—J. W. Pike said to be in the employ of the Missouri, Oklahoma and Gulf railway was seriously wounded and several other persons beaten in a clash between a mob and suspected strike breakers here early this morning. The fight occurred because the men wanted to work in the railway shops. It is said.

Strike Breakers Beaten. Several men believed to be strike-breakers, railroad guards and deputy U. S. marshals were kidnapped and beaten in a series of disorders. Pike's wounds are said not to be serious. Several guards and men believed to be strike breakers were left by a mob of about 1,000 as they left the Katy train and hustled into an automobile and hurried into the country and were flogged, according to reports to the police, confirmed by General Manager McGee of the Katy Railway.

NEW A. & M. COLLEGE TO BE INDEPENDENT

Brownwood, Texas, July 12.—The directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, before adjourning here yesterday, selected May 21, 22 and 23 as the dates for the next annual convention, which will be held at San Angelo. Brownwood is already making plans for a fight to obtain the 1924 convention. In the meantime the organization will tackle one of the biggest engineering problems in the world, the construction of reservoirs or levees, probably both, to conserve flood waters in Texas.

West Texas A. & M. College Porter A. Whaley, manager; H. B. Spencer, president; Homer D. Wade assistant manager; as well as the directors of the West Texas Chamber, are enthusiastic over the proposition Wade has been assigned the work of co-ordinating the flood control interests, as well as the job of "putting over" the West Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College. The resolution adopted calls for a college under a separate board and divorced from the present A. & M. board and management.

ATTY. GEN. BRUNDAGE WILL PAY $1,000 CASH REWARD

Illinois will Pay Reward for Murderers of the Workers in the Coal Mines of Williamson County—So far no Arrests Have Been Made for Wholesale Murders.

(By Associated Press).

Chicago, July 12.—Attorney General Brundage today offered a reward of $1,000 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons who committed the murder and assault in connection with strike coal miners in Williamson county. The strong appeal was particularly directed to citizens of Williamson county who Attorney General Brundage said would be protected in every way for any assistance they may give. There were nearly 100 men killed during the fight and Williamson county under the law is liable for $5000 for each man killed the money to go to their heirs.

TROOPS ARE NOT NEEDED IN TEXAS

Austin, July 12.—Situation in railroad shopmen's strike in Texas at present does not necessitate calling of state troops to protect railroad, Adjutant General Barton said this morning after a telegram to Gov. Pat M. Neff from J. L. Lancaster, receiver, Texas and Pacific railway had been handed him. The telegram requested state troops to protect the Texas and Pacific property. The telegram was forwarded to Gov. Neff at Stephenville where he speaks tonight.

CHAIRMAN HOOPER HAS SOLUTION OF THE STRIKE

Chicago, July 12.—Program for solution of railroad shopmen's strike was drawn up today by Chairman Hooper of the United States Railroad Labor Board after conferences with the leaders of shopmen and was submitted to the representatives of the railway executives from four sections of the country at noon. Chairman Hooper's program was said to represent the minimum acceptable to the striking shopmen it is to be carried again to shopmen's leaders later today with comments on counter proposals of executives.

FOREMAN WILLIAMS WAS ASSAULTED BY STRIKERS

Fort Worth, July 12.—According to report received here this morning and confirmed at Santa Fe office in Cleburne the General Foreman John W. Williams at shops in Cleburne was taken from work last night by crowd of men and assaulted. The attack is believed to be made in connection with the strike on the railroads.

BODIES OF HOMER AND ALLEN REPERT LOCKED IN DEATH-SLEEP

Dr. R. R. Reppert, who was in Fredericksburg, when the message came to him of the drowning of his little sons, Homer, aged 12 years, and Allen, aged 10 years, in Wixom creek arrived home on his sad mission at 4:15 o'clock Wednesday morning. Arrangements had been made and the bodies were shipped on the noon H. & T. C. railway train for Valley Falls, Kansas, where they will be accompanied by Dr. and Mrs. Reppert and buried at the old home. The children, Homer and Allen, were born in Korea where Dr. Reppert was a medical missionary before coming to A. & M. College where Dr. Reppert is an entomologist in the Extension Service. Mrs. Reppert had allowed the boys to go out in the country on all-day outing but had warned them not to go in the water. In their zeal and fun-making the boys wandered further than they expected and went into the Wixom creek pool on the Reliance road about four miles east of Bryan where the tragedy occurred.

Story of The Rescue.

Ralph Dunn, who with Jess Conlee, rescued the bodies of Homer and Allen, called at the Eagle office and told of the finding of the bodies in the pool. They had been in the water about three hours when recovered Tuesday afternoon after 12 o'clock. A negro boy, John Wilson, accompanied Homer and Allen on the jaunt but would not go in the water. When Allen plunged in and went over the ledge into the water about 8 feet deep, Homer leaped after him and grasped his younger brother never to come up alive. The negro ran to a farm house and gave the alarm over the telephone but by the time a rescue party could get there, about three hours time had elapsed. Mr. Dunn stated that he held a pole into the water and Mr. Conlee dived down and found the little bodies locked in each others' embrace when they were brought up to surface. It was indeed a sad sight to witness the two little bodies cold in death lying side by side just as if they were sleeping. Only a few days ago Allen came to the Eagle office and said he would be glad to deliver papers in the afternoon. He was a bright child and his name was taken for service as soon as there was a vacancy. He often called at the office and made friends with everybody he met. The Eagle extends its deepest sympathy to the sorrowing parents "as they pass under the rod."

While driving in their car returning from Bremond near Calvert Wednesday morning in an automobile accident Margaret, the five year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mills P. Walker got her right thigh fractured. Margaret was brought to the Bryan Hospital and is now at home doing very well.

Marlin, Texas, July 12.—Held up and robbed of her hair by two strange men, one of whom was dressed in woman's attire, was the experience of Mrs. Newt Cole who lives in the Pleasant Grove community near Marlin. News of the affair has just reached this city.

Took Place Saturday

Saturday afternoon about 3 o'clock two men drove up to the Cole residence while Mr. Cole was absent and claimed to be selling face powder. Gaining an audience with Mrs. Cole on the pretext of showing the efficacy of their preparation, one of the men drew a pistol and commanded Mrs. Cole to remain seated while the other drew a pair of shears and bobbed the hair from Mrs. Cole's head.

Threaten to Kill Her

Under threat that she should be killed if she made an outcry, Mrs. Cole was ordered to remain seated in the chair for 30 minutes after they re-entered their car and sped away. Mrs. Cole is reported to have had very beautiful hair. It is also stated that two men, believed to be the same ones, had been in the community some time ago, and remarked that "hair like Mrs. Cole's was worth $40." Parties think they can identify the men if seen again.

WILLIAMSON PROSPECTS

Mr. Ivy Foster of Taylor who is here on a visit to relatives states that corn is made in Williamson county and that cotton is fruiting very well and one good general rain is needed and no more. Then the crop would be assured and the U.S. weather report today indicates rain by using the word, "unsettled." Mr. Foster is a well known banker and business man of Williamson county.

Mrs. R. A. Harrison who was bitten by a rattlesnake while enjoying a camp at Hall's Lake some twelve miles south of Bryan is rapidly recovering; all danger is past and she hopes in a few more days to be up and among her friends.

MEMBER OF ASSOCIATED PRESS

A professional politician with sawdust for brains in Texas or anywhere else as Artemus Ward would say, "an amosung cuss."

The Houston Post says: "No man who earns his money by plowing ever gives $20 for a seat at a prize fight." O, George, you forget the man who has sawdust for brains.

Be sure and vote in the bond election in Bryan Tuesday for the issuance of $42,000 school and paving bonds. Go to the polls and let your conscience be your guide.

There are some candidates for Governor of Texas who should be bored for the simples and tapped for the addles. They wouldn't make a good floater in a fish tank.

The newspapers of the United States should talk more about the enforcement of the criminal laws and there wouldn't be so much need of talking about mob law. Let us become sane.

Crops are growing in Texas and prices are growing a little stronger as the over-head has been slightly reduced and there is a little more efficiency in handling the crops of the Texas farmers.

The United States will never get back to normalcy as long as it takes all the money we are making working to support the man who does not work at all. After a while a 10 cent beef steak will sell for $3.00 and then the people will wake up—perhaps.

"Fred Rogers Criticizing Neff," is the blazing headline. It is the easiest thing in the world for men to engage in criticism of the work of others—especially when they have never done anything themselves. It is wonderful!

The ways of politicians are still human ways and there is no discernible difference in the days of the senatorial candidates. "And they all with an accord turned their guns on Mayfield" and everybody but the blinded know that they are not doing it because they think he has no strength.—Clarendon News.

Houston's population is showing an increase despite the fact that they are killing men who want to work in that burg. This is one of the reasons working people should remain away from Houston—and all other people who are not seeking trouble. There seems to be plenty of trouble in Houston.

The Randall County News objects to Earle B. Mayfield, candidate for United States Senator, referring to the United States Flag in his speeches for a political office. Some of our boys died for the flag and it doesn't seem that Mayfield is going far wrong when he defends the flag of our country. The editor of the News has a strange idea of patriotism.—Exchange.

Judging from a number of speeches before the Texas Bar Association at Fort Worth many of the Texas lawyers are lining up against law enforcement in Texas. This is a grave error on the part of the lawyers and the tax payers are footing the bill for every open infraction of the law adds to the burden and it is becoming quite heavy.

The Galveston News of July 10 1892, "fifty years ago," says: "The sheriff of Galveston county was removed from office by an order of Judge A. P. McCormack of the eighteenth judicial district after a hearing yesterday." Perhaps law enforcement in Texas would be improved now if some more sheriffs were removed in the year 1922.

More people have been killed by mobs in two states in the north in one year than in Texas for ten years. And yet the infamous newspapers in certain sections of the United States backed by a publicity liar says Texas leads in mob law. No wonder there is mob law. No wonder there is ignorance, vice, venality and prejudice stalking about in the world like the gaunt spectre of Banquo's Ghost.

There is a lawyer up in Waco named Tom Shires running for the legislature. His platform sounds solid, stable and sane. He writes like a man who knows what he is talking about and has the courage of his conviction. Texas needs more men in the legislature who do not play the demagogue and often display sawdust where they should brains. The Eagle hopes Tom will win and we will see in a try-out and bet on him being a winner.

The Corpus Christi Daily News has issued a wonderful deep water edition. The editor of the Eagle has always been a great friend of Corpus Christi and has spent many days in that beautiful city, the "Naples of the Gulf," and regards it as his second home to get the cool breezes, and happy associations of many lifetime friends. The Times deserves great credit for this edition made possible by the live business interests.

GREATEST CONFERENCE HELD FOR A GENERATION

(By Lee J. Rountree).

Governor Neff has called a conference of engineers at the capital in Austin on August 7th. The conference is to primarily deal with the flood situation along the Brazos, Trinity, Colorado and other Texas streams and rivers. It is the most important conference of a generation. The flood waters are destroying millions annually in the low lands leaving the arid and up lands to bleach and bake in the summer suns. Changed conditions in Texas demand (1) More impounding tanks and lakes (2) More terracing of lands on the hillsides which annually throw the water and soil into the rivers and destroy $100,000,000 worth of crops. (3) A reforestation of the cut-over lands of Texas and no man should be allowed to destroy the timber on strictly timber land without putting a tree in its place. (4) A system of levees built on systematic lines from the head waters of our rivers from their head to the Gulf. (5) A topographical survey that will designate all the improvements needed. These forces can be put to work in Texas under the constitutional amendment adopted by the people of Texas in 1917.

Governor Neff has by his call to assemble the engineers at Austin on August 7 set in motion a great movement. At that conference the foundation should be laid for a great work to benefit the future generations. For forty years Texas has been talking flood reclamation and protection. But nothing substantial has been done. On the theory to accomplish a great purpose fifty determined citizens of Texas on May 15, 1922, organized in Bryan the Brazos River Reclamation Association. The Dallas-Galveston News of July 8 in commenting on the Cameron meeting of the Association said it was a "remarkable meeting" because it proposed to do something toward taking the first step for future development and protection—to secure a topographical survey of the Brazos River watershed. Then other surveys must be made and the engineers will tell us what to do to impound the flood waters for the arid lands, reclaim the inundated lands and levee the overflow lands. Then thoughtful, earnest and patriotic Texans will proceed to act on these lines of preservation and defense under the laws and the constitution of Texas. The Austin meeting of government engineers is fraught with a great purpose for the future greatness, prosperity and advancement of imperial commonwealth of Texas.

THE INEVITABLE RESULT

Many of the small town newspapers (that receive 15 to 25 cents for a very limited amount of advertising) must pay the same labor expenses as the large newspapers that receive $2.00 to $3.50 per inch for advertising. At the same time the smaller newspaper do not receive enough business to keep them going and must suspend.—Fourth Estate.

After a while we all hope to quit work entirely and live on the issuance of paper money as they are doing in Russia. Of course we could do this if commissions continue to collect food and clothing for those who will not work to produce any thing.

The Eagle would like to make a suggestion to some of the lurid spoken candidates for governor who are not running for the exalted office on their own merits but by whole sale criticism of Governor Neff especially on his law enforcement record. Men cannot afford to pander to the rabble to be elected governor of Texas. Another thing, some candidates are displaying ignorance of state affairs that becomes pitiful. The people know who they are and will attend to them properly in the primaries.

The commercial and industrial possibilities of Navasota are limited only by the amount of energy and effort put forth by its citizens in taking advantage of their opportunities. Only concerted action on the part of everyone will bring the fullest realization of civic and commercial progress. The Chamber of Commerce, Civic Club and Young Men's Progressive League are the natural channels through which the activities of our people should be directed to the most effective use, and they are institutions which deserve the whole-hearted support of all.—Navasota Examiner-Review.

Ministers, writers and editors often have a problem to fight which the public knows, or thinks little of—that of indifference on the part of that same public. A preacher can preach his best sermon and those who hear it call it a good one, but apparently go on as before giving no heed. A writer of national fame can give his best thought to an article of great merit and have it published in a widely read magazine and hear little of its good effect. The editor of a home paper can fill his columns week after week with his best effort at community development, can lay a careful campaign of publicity and

President Richard Mays, of Corsicana, in attacking Governor Neff for his law enforcement program in Texas displayed poor judgment for a criminal lawyer. Mr. Mays will understand ultimately that the people of Texas are going to demand that the criminal laws be enforced and if the local officers will not do this or are unable to do it the Governor will be backed to the limit. There is too much crime in Texas and it is coming too high on the tax payers. The judicial appropriation bill carries millions of dollars annually to be paid by the tax payers. As a lawyer Mr. Mays should realize his responsibility and duty—for he is astute, wise and learned in the law.

Headline: "Governor Neff Claims Some Texas Officers Lawbreakers." Neff should have gone further and stated that officers in some of the cities and old fields of Texas are practically criminals themselves and are bringing the law in open disrespect by their criminal negligence, venal action and general ignorance. When public officers of this state aid in violation they add to the tax burdens of the people. Recently a sheriff in one of the lawless cities of Texas made the statement that was published in good faith (or through ignorance) that everything was serene and peaceful and lawful in the town. At the same time law breakers, hijackers and bootleggers were running rampant in the place and no attempt was being made to enforce the laws. The main objection the Eagle has to such a denegate statement is that this sheriff believes posted men will believe his false statement. Shame on such public officials and their henchmen.

GOVERNOR NEFF

(San Angelo Standard)

By the time Governor Neff finishes his swing through West Texas several thousand West Texans will have a much clearer conception of the limitations of the governor's office of the difficulties that beset state government, and when these are balanced against Governor Neff's accomplishment while incumbent there is a much better idea of the man himself and his capabilities. Judgement of men in public office by the general public are subject to the limitations of knowledge—they are made oftentimes without a full possession of the facts and sometimes without even a partial knowledge.

Governor Neff made no direct reference to the West Texas A. and M. but those who listened carefully to his speech heard his reasons very clearly when he stated that he had "vetoed over $6,000,000 of appropriations not absolutely necessary" in order to keep the tax rate down at a time when falling markets had impoverished the people. And a little farther on they listened to words of hope when the Governor said that he was in favor of education, that if the crops this year were as good as they now promised, that the legislature would find him very amenable to anything of a forward constructive nature.

His reasons for declaring martial law at Mexico, his indictment of an unnamed district judge who "would not permit a bottlegging case to be presented in his court," his reasons for tightening up the pardoning powers of the Chief Executive to better enforce respect for law and order, and his own plea for respect for law won much admiration from a large portion of his audiences. There is no question in the minds of his West Texas audiences but that he will be the next governor of the State of Texas.

IN INOCUOUS DESUETUDE

The Dallas News says: "Of course a strike has to be prompt but there is no need of railroadings if, says Chairman Hooper." In former years the term "railroading" was used to indicate rapidity. This is now a misnomer. Railroadings is now one of the slow processes of business and needs general overhauling. There is too much freight, too many cars, too many engines tied up at the terminals. Railroadings is not a fast game now and somebody has practically destroyed the efficiency of the railroads. Hence, the term "railroading" to mean rapid transit is obsolete—it belongs to the past and is of the innocuous desuetude class. No wonder our crops are rotting in the fields and our freight cars only work on an average haul of two hours per day. Take off the brakes and go to work.

STEEP HOLLOW REVIVAL

E. O. Lites of Shreveport, La., arrived today and will direct the singing at the revival services now being held at Steep Hollow. Dr. John A. Held, pastor of the First Baptist church of Bryan is doing the preaching. Services are held each day at 11 o'clock in the morning and 8:30 o'clock in the evening. The public is cordially urged to attend all services.

RATTLE SNAKE BITES
MRS. R. A. HARRISON

Mrs. R. A. Harrison, who was a member of the camping party enjoying the week end at Hall's Lake in the northern part of Brazos county was bitten on the top of her foot by a rattle snake late yesterday afternoon and was hurried in to Bryan hospital last night for medical treatment. The bite is a severe one, and the foot and limb swollen badly as a result. The doctors tell her that it will be about 72 hours before the swelling subsides, and all danger is over. Mrs. Harrison's many friends regret to learn of this serious accident which brought to a close her pleasure on the camping trip, and hope she will soon be well again.

I. L. Barlow returned to his home at Balmorhea, Texas, today. Mrs. Barlow and daughter Mrs. Mary will continue their visit here for a few days longer.

TABOR WELFARE CLUB

Promptly at seven o'clock Friday evening some ten or twelve automobiles filled with Rotarians and other Bryan people left the City Hall for the Tabor meeting held under the auspices of the Tabor Welfare Club and the Boys' and Girls' Victory Agricultural Club. Arriving at Tabor, some of the visitors, on seeing only a few people present, were apprehensive of the success of the meeting, but Miss Mary Locke assured them that her people—the Tabor people—were yet in the fields making corn and cotton. Soon all doubts as to the crowd were removed when automobiles, buggies, etc. began rolling in and boxes and baskets began to be piled up on the table prepared for the occasion. In the meantime, visitors and home folk sat around on the lawn beautifully illuminated by electric lights from the community Delco plant, and talked of the weather, cracked jokes, occasionally dropping in a word of politics, and enjoying the splendid music by Messrs. H. G. Jim and E. R. Lloyd, J. L. Green and C. E. Bobo. E. R. Lloyd, the 11 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Lloyd took down the house when he played the violin solo, "Beautiful Ohio," his father playing the accompaniment on the guitar. Jim Lloyd's skillful manipulation of the violin recalled, to many, former days when they "tripped the light fantastic toe" to similar music. Mr. Green thoroughly satisfied all present that he is no amateur when it comes to handling a mandolin, but it may be remembered that his ability as a musician is not limited to the use of a mandolin.

The crowd being gathered announcement was made that supper was ready to be served on the lawn. The rays from a silvery moon, the beautiful electric lights, and the delightful breeze sweeping across the rolling prairies vied with each other in making the occasion ideal for visitors and homefolk to partake of the sumptuous supper consisting of chicken, country sausage, ham, cakes, pies, custard, hot coffee, etc. Supper over the people were invited to return to the auditorium of the school building where Miss Mary Locke called the house to order and assisted the boys and girls in rendering a short program of songs, yells, etc. At the conclusion of which County Agent C. L. Beason was asked to introduce the Bryan Rotary Club. Mr. Beason stated that he regretted the absence of one member on the community program who was to give not only a history of the Tabor community club, but also outline some of the policies for the future, and that in his judgement the things Tabor had done would sink into insignificance when compared with what the community will yet accomplish in community building and in economic development.

Mr. Beason stated that while the Tabor boys and girls had won the state championship for community club work, that under the direction of their local leader, Prof. E. C. Martin, they were no longer out for "jack rabbits" but for big game like bear.

County Agent introduced the Rotary Club by introducing its president, M. E. Wallace, who was asked to put on his program in his own way. Rev. S. Moylan Birdson leader for the Rotarians, was asked to give a few "pep" songs. Each Rotarian was introduced by standing and giving his classification, or kind of business, Rev. Birdson answering by saying, "Sky Pilot." Several of the Rotarians were called upon for two minute talks among the speakers being Superintendent Madison Hall, W. S. Barron, Mayor Tyler Haswell, H. H. Williamson and Oak McKenzie. Mr. Hall stated that he desired to congratulate the Tabor people on the progress they had made toward the solution of problems now demanding the thoughtful consideration of all thinking people. Mayor Haswell said he thought such meetings were conducive to the latter understanding on the part of the business man of the problems of the farm and the farm home, the proper solution of which will bring greater prosperity to the farmer and the business men as well.

There were two contests, giving two boxes of candy, one the best looking man and the other to the ugliest man. In the first contest, W. S. Barron, E. E. McAdams and C. L. Beason were nominated, the girl nominating C. L. Beason winning by a substantial majority of votes. In the race for the ugliest man Superintendent Hall was an easy winner. Oak McKenzie conducted a contest in facial expression the contestants being W. S. Barron, E. E. McAdams, T. K. Lawrence, Misses Roten and Stephens and Mrs. C. E. Bobo. W. S. Barron won on the part of the men, prize being a lemon. Mrs. Bobo won for the women, the prize being a large stick of candy. Gabe Cazell was asked to lead the song, "Old McDonald Had a Farm," at the conclusion of which the musicians played "Leather Britches," during the lively rendition of this old "classic" Geo. P. Edge and Gabe Cazell cut the "pigeon wing" as in the days of yore. The Rotary Club extended a vote of thanks for the cordial reception given them and Miss Mary Locke, representing the community, invited the Rotarians back and not wait too long.

FIRST SERMON BY
DELIVERED IN BRYAN

Rev. Walton R. Cole, a theological student at the Louisville (Ky.) Seminary preached a sermon at the First Methodist church of Bryan in the absence of Rev. H. C. Willis, the pastor, Sunday morning. This was Mr. Cole's first sermon in the home of his nativity. He took for his text: "The Resurrection—And He that Believeth on Me Shall Never Die." Mr. Cole handled the subject in a masterful way bringing home the greatest truths to the hearts and consciences of men and women—that Jesus Christ was being crucified by a sin cursed world the same today as when he died nearly 2000 years ago on the cross to satisfy the demands of the criminal rabble of that day. At the close of the sermon many went up to the altar to shake his hand and wish Mr. Cole God-speed in the ministry.

Supt. C. M. Bethany of the Methodist Sunday school presided over the services and introduced Mr. Cole. He spoke of his boyhood days in Bryan having been born and reared here and said that he was an ideal boy and good student. In acknowledging the kind words of Mr. Bethany the young man said perhaps some of his boyhood friends were surprised to see him in the pulpit but he was just as much surprised to see them out in the pews. It was a happy helpful service. Walton Cole is related to the Cole family of Brazos county and was reared by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cole, in our town. He graduated in Bryan High School, went to Worlds War and graduated at the State University and is now at the Southern Baptist Seminary at Louisville, Kentucky, and will soon graduate there. His work has been an inspiration and in wishing Mr. Cole great success many persons took pleasure in commending Mr. and Mrs. Cole for their interest in aiding him in becoming a great educated stalwart Christian man to give the world a real service that will live through time.

Physicians were summoned but it was too late as the bodies had been too long in the water and life was extinct. The bodies were brought to town about 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon where preparations for the funeral will be made. Homer and Allen were sons of Mr. and Mrs. R. Reppert. Mr. Reppert is entomologist for the A. and M. College. ROBERTSON COUNTY
HAS 22 INDICTMENTS

Franklin, Texas, July 10.—The Robertson county grand jury has adjourned after a five days session returning into court 22 true bills of indictment, being 13 felonies and nine misdemeanors. Of the felony indictments returned there is one charge of burglary, two of thefts of hogs and 10 of violation of the liquor laws.

The noticeable feature of the grand jury's work was its failure to find a single indictment for murder or any other capital offense. On the whole, crime seems to be very much on the decrease in this county.

MEMBER OF ASSOCIATED PRESS

A professional politician with sawdust for brains in Texas or anywhere else is as Artemus Ward would say, "an amooing cuss."

The Houston Post says: "No man who earns his money by plowing ever gives $20 for a seat at a prize fight." O, George, you forget the man who has sawdust for brains.

Be sure and vote in the bond election in Bryan Tuesday for the issuance of $42,000 school and paving bonds. Go to the polls and let your conscience be your guide.

There are some candidates for Governor of Texas who should be bored for the simples and tapped for the addles. They wouldn't make a good floater in a fish tank.

The newspapers of the United States should talk more about the enforcement of the criminal laws and there wouldn't be so much need of talking about mob law. Let us become sane.

Crops are growing in Texas and prices are growing a little stronger as the over-head has been slightly reduced and there is a little more efficiency in handling the crops of the Texas farmers.

The United States will never get back to normalcy as long as it takes all the money we are making working to support the man who does not work at all. After a while a 10 cent beef steak will sell for $3.00 and then the people will wake up—perhaps.

"Fred Rogers Criticizing Neff," is the blazing headline. It is the easiest thing in the world for men to engage in criticism of the work of others—especially when they have never done anything themselves. It is wonderful!

The ways of politicians are still human ways and there is no discernible difference in the days of the senatorial candidates. "And they all with one accord turned their guns on Mayfield" and everybody but the blinded know that they are not doing it because they think he has no strength.—Clarendon News.

Houston's population is showing an increase despite the fact that they are killing men who want to work in that burg. This is one of the reasons working people should remain away from Houston—and all other people who are not seeking trouble. There seems to be plenty of trouble in Houston.

The Randall County News objects to Earle B. Mayfield, candidate for United States Senator, referring to the United States flag in his speeches for a political office. Some of our boys died for the flag and it doesn't seem that Mayfield is going far wrong when he defends the flag of our country. The editor of the News has a strange idea of patriotism.—Exchange.

Judgments from a number of speeches before the Texas Bar Association at Fort Worth many of the Texas lawyers are lining up against law enforcement in Texas. This is a grave error on the part of the lawyers and the tax payers are footing the bill for every open infraction of the law adds to the burden and it is becoming quite heavy.

The Galveston News of July 10, 1892, "fifty years ago," says: "The sheriff of Galveston county was removed from office by an order of Judge A. P. McCormack of the eighth judicial district after a hearing yesterday." Perhaps law enforcement in Texas would be improved now if some more sheriffs were removed in the year 1922.

More people have been killed by mobs in two states in the north in one year than in Texas for ten years. And yet the infamous newspapers in certain sections of the United States backed by a publicity liar says Texas leads in mob law. No wonder there is mob law. No wonder there is ignorance, vice venality and prejudice stalking about in the world like the gaunt spectre of Banquo's Ghost.

There is a lawyer up in Waco named Tom Shires running for the legislature. His platform sounds solid, stable and sane. He writes like a man who knows what he is talking about and has the courage of his conviction. Texas needs more men in the legislature who do not play the demagogue and often display sawdust where they should brains. The Eagle hopes Tom will win and we will see in a try-out and bet on him being a winner.

The Corpus Christi Daily News has issued a wonderful deep water edition. The editor of the Eagle has always been a great friend of Corpus Christi and has spent many days in that beautiful city, the "Naples of the Gulf," and regards it as his second home to get the cool breezes, and happy associations of many lifetime friends. The Times deserves great credit for this edition made possible by the live business interests.

(By Lee J. Rountree).

Governor Neff has called a conference of engineers at the capital in Austin on August 7th. The conference is to primarily deal with the flood situation along the Brazos, Trinity, Colorado and other Texas streams and rivers. It is the most important conference of a generation. The flood waters are destroying millions annually in the low lands leaving the arid and up lands to bleach and bake in the summer suns. Changed conditions in Texas demand (1) More impounding tanks and lakes (2) More terracing of lands on the hillsides which annually throw the water and soil into the rivers and destroy $100,000,000 worth of crops. (3) A reforestation of the cut-over lands of Texas and no man should be allowed to destroy the timber on strictly timber land without putting a tree in its place. (4) A system of levees built on systematic lines from the head waters of our rivers from their head to the Gulf. (5) A topographical survey that will designate all the improvements needed. These forces can be put to work in Texas under the constitutional amendment adopted by the people of Texas in 1917.

Governor Neff has by his call to assemble the engineers at Austin on August 7 set in motion a great movement. At that conference the foundation should be laid for a great work to benefit the future generations. For forty years Texas has been talking flood reclamation and protection. But nothing substantial has been done. On the theory to accomplish a great purpose fifty determined citizens of Texas on May 15, 1922, organized in Bryan the Brazos River Reclamation Association. The Dallas-Galveston News of July 8 in commenting on the Cameron meeting of the Association said it was a "remarkable meeting" because it proposed to do something toward taking the first step for future development and protection—to secure a topographical survey of the Brazos River watershed. Then other surveys must be made and the engineers will tell us what to do to impound the flood waters for the arid lands, reclaim the inundated lands and levee the overflow lands. Then thoughtful, earnest and patriotic Texans will proceed to act on these lines of preservation and defense under the laws and the constitution of Texas. The Austin meeting of government engineers is fraught with a great purpose for the future greatness, prosperity and advancement of imperial commonwealth of Texas.

THE INEVITABLE RESULT

Many of the small town newspapers (that receive 15 to 25 cents for a very limited amount of advertising) must pay the same labor expenses as the large newspapers that receive $2.00 to $3.50 per inch for advertising. At the same time the smaller newspaper do not receive enough business to keep them going and must suspend.—Fourth Estate.

After a while we all hope to quit work entirely and live on the issuance of paper money as they are doing in Russia. Of course we could do this if commissions continue to collect food and clothing for those who will not work to produce any thing.

The Eagle would like to make a suggestion to some of the lurid spoken candidates for governor who are not running for the exalted office on their own merits but by whole sale criticism of Governor Neff especially on his law enforcement record. Men cannot afford to pander to the rabble to be elected governor of Texas. Another thing, some candidates are displaying ignorance of state affairs that becomes pitiful. The people know who they are and will attend to them properly in the primaries.

The commercial and industrial possibilities of Navasota are limited only by the amount of energy and effort put forth by its citizens in taking advantage of their opportunities. Only concerted action on the part of everyone will bring the fullest realization of civic and commercial progress. The Chamber of Commerce, Civic Club and Young Men's Progressive League are the natural channels through which the activities of our people should be directed to the most effective use, and they are institutions which deserve the whole-hearted support of all.—Navasota Examiner-Review.

Ministers, writers and editors often have a problem to fight which the public knows, or thinks little of—that of indifference on the part of that same public. A preacher can preach his best sermon and those who hear it call it a good one, but apparently so on as before giving no heed. A writer of national fame can give his best thought to an article of great merit and have it published in a widely read magazine and hear little of its good effect. The editor of a home paper can fill his columns week after week with his best effort at community development, can lay a careful campaign of publicity and

President Richard Mays, of Corsicana, in attacking Governor Neff for his law enforcement program in Texas as displayed poor judgment for a criminal lawyer. Mr. Mays will understand ultimately that the people of Texas are going to demand that the criminal laws be enforced and if the local officers will not do this or are unable to do it the Governor will be backed to the limit. There is too much crime in Texas and it is coming too high on the tax payers. The judicial appropriation bill carries millions of dollars annually to be paid by the tax payers. As a lawyer Mr. Mays should realize his responsibility and duty—for he is astute, wise and learned in the law.

Headline: "Governor Neff Claims Some Texas Officers Lawbreakers." Neff should have gone further and stated that officers in some of the cities and oil fields of Texas are practically criminals themselves and are bringing the law in open disrespect by their criminal negligence, venal action and general ignorance. When public officers of this state aid in violation they add to the tax burdens of the people. Recently a sheriff in one of the lawless cities of Texas made the statement that was published in good faith (or through ignorance) that everything was serene and peaceful and lawful in the town. At the same time law breakers, hijackers and bootleggers were running rampant in the place and no attempt was being made to enforce the laws. The main objection the Eagle has to such a denegate statement is that this sheriff believes posted men will believe his false statement. Shame on such public officials and their henchmen.

GOVERNOR NEFF

By the time Governor Neff finishes his swing through West Texas several thousand West Texans will have a much clearer conception of the limitations of the governor's office of the difficulties that beset state government, and when these are balanced against Governor Neff's accomplishment while innumerable there in a much better idea of the man himself and his capabilities. Judgement of men in public office by the general public are subject to the limitations of knowledge—they are made oftentimes without a full possession of the facts and sometimes without even a partial knowledge.

Governor Neff made no direct reference to the West Texas A. and M. but those who listened carefully to his speech heard his reasons very clearly when he stated that he had "vetted over $6,000,000 of appropriations not absolutely necessary" in order to keep the tax rate down at a time when failing markets had impoverished the people. And a little farther on they listened to words of hope when the Governor said that if the crops this year were as good as they now promised, that the legislature would find him very amenable to anything of a forward constructive nature.

His reasons for declaring martial law at Mexia, his indictment of an unnamed district judge who "would not permit a bootlegging case to be presented in his court," his reasons for tightening up the pardoning powers of the Chief Executive to better enforce respect for law and order, and his own plea for respect for law won much admiration from a large portion of his audiences. There is no question in the minds of his West Texas audiences but that he will be the next governor of the State of Texas.

IN INCOGNITO DESUETUDE

The Dallas News says: "Of course a strike has to be prompt (but there's no need of railroading it," says Chairman Hooper). In former years the term "railroading" was used to indicate rapidity. This is now a misnomer. Railroading is now one of the slow processes of business and needs general overhauling. There is too much freight, too many cars, too many engines tied up at the terminals. Railroading is not a fast game now and somebody has practically destroyed the efficiency of the railroads. Hence, the term "railroading" to mean rapid transit is obsolete—it belongs to the past and is of the incognita desuetude class. No wonder our crops are rotting in the fields and our freight cars only work on an average haul of two hours per day. Take off the brakes and go to work.

STEPP HOLLOW REVELAL

E. O. Lites of Shreveport, La., arrived today and will direct the singing at the revival services now being held at Stepp Hollow. Dr. John A. Held, pastor of the First Baptist church of Bryan is doing the preaching. Services are held each day at 11 o'clock in the morning and 8:30 o'clock in the evening. The public is cordially urged to attend all services.

RATTLE SNAKE BITES

Mrs. R. A. Harrison, who was a member of the camping party enjoying the week end at Hall's Lake in the northern part of Brazos county was bitten on the top of her foot by a rattle snake late yesterday afternoon, and was hurried in to the Bryan hospital last night for medical treatment. The bite is a severe one, and the foot and limb swollen badly as a result. The doctors tell her that it will be about 72 hours before the swelling subsides, and all danger is over. Mrs. Harrison's many friends regret to learn of this serious accident which brought to a close her pleasure on the camping trip, and hope she will soon be well again.

I. L. Barlow returned to his home at Balmorhea, Texas, today. Mrs. Barlow and daughter, Mrs. Mary will continue their visit here for a few days longer.

Promptly at seven o'clock Friday evening some ten or twelve automobiles filled with Rotarians and other Bryan people left the City Hall for the Tabor meeting held under the auspices of the Tabor Welfare Club and the Boys' and Girls' Victory Agricultural Club. Arriving at Tabor, some of the visitors, on seeing only a few people present, were apprehensive of the success of the meeting, but Miss Mary Locke assured them that her people—the Tabor people—were yet in the fields making corn and cotton. Soon all doubts as to the crowd were removed when automobiles, buggies, etc., began rolling in and boxes and baskets began to be piled up on the able prepared for the occasion. In the meantime, visitors and home folk sat around on the lawn beautifully illuminated by electric lights from the community Delco plant, and talked of the weather, cracked jokes, occasionally dropping in a word of politics, and enjoying the splendid music by Messrs. H. G. Jim and E. R. Lloyd, J. L. Green and C. E. Bobo. E. R. Lloyd, the 11 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Lloyd took down the house when he played the violin solo. "Beautiful Ohio," his father playing the accompaniment on the guitar. Jim Lloyd's skillful manipulation of the violin recalled, to many, former days when they "tripped the light fantastic toe" to similar music. Mr. Green thoroughly satisfied all present that he is no amateur when it comes to handling a mandolin, but it may be remembered that his ability as a musician is not limited to the use of a mandolin.

The crowd being gathered announcement was made that supper was ready to be served on the lawn. The rays from a silvery moon, the beautiful electric lights, and the delightful breeze sweeping across the rolling prairies vied with each other in making the occasion ideal for visitors and homefolk to partake of the sumptuous supper consisting of chicken, country sausage, ham, cakes, pies, custard, hot coffee, etc. Supper over the people were invited to return to the auditorium of the school building where Miss Mary Locke called the house to order and assisted the boys and girls in rendering a short program of songs, yells, etc., at the conclusion of which County Agent C. L. Beason was asked to introduce the Bryan Rotary Club. Mr. Beason stated that he regretted the absence of one member on the community program who was to give not only a history of the Tabor community club, but also outline some of the policies for the future, and that in his judgement the things Tabor had done would sink into insignificance when compared with what the community will yet accomplish in community building and in economic development.

Mr. Beason stated that while the Tabor boys and girls had won the state championship for community club work, that under the direction of their local leader, Prof. E. C. Martin, they were no longer out for "jack rabbits" but for big game like bear.

County Agent introduced the Rotary Club by introducing its president, M. E. Wallace, who was asked to put on his program in his own way. Rev. S. Moylan Bird song leader for the Rotarians, was asked to give a few "pep" songs. Each Rotarian was introduced by standing and giving his classification, or kind of service, Rev. Bird answering by saying, "Sky Pilot." Several of the Rotarians were called upon for two-minute talks among the speakers being Superintendent Madison Hall, W. S. Barron, Mayor Tyler Haswell, M. L. Parker, John M. Lawrence, J. D. Martin, E. E. McAdams, Major L. L. McInnis, Lee J. Rountree, A. M. Waldrop, R. S. Webb, M. E. Wallace and D. L. Wilson. Visitors—E. H. Edge, C. C. Morgan and Sam B. Wilson of the special highway committee, J. Tom Smith and County Agent C. L. Beason.

After general discussion of the highway situation in Brazos county the following special committee was announced by President W. H. Cole: E. H. Edge, C. C. Morgan, Sam B. Wilson, J. D. Martin and R. S. Webb. This committee will act with the Highway committee, W. S. Barron chairman, J. F. Oates, Jess Conlee, D. D. White and W. I. McCulloch. The joint committee was called by Chairman Barron at Chamber of Commerce rooms at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Motion was made by John M. Lawrence that action of the board of directors in 1921 be endorsed for giving premium for first bale of cotton that the Chamber of Commerce donate $25 premium to party bringing first 1922 standard bale of cotton to warehouse in Bryan and report to Secretary Eberstadt.

County Agent C. L. Beason asked the Chamber of Commerce to aid in a Brazos County Day, Wednesday, July 26th, at A. and M. College and upon motion of Major L. L. McInnis the plan was endorsed and the arrangements were referred to Chairman J. D. Martin of the Agricultural committee, to act with County Agent Beason.

City Manager E. E. McAdams made a motion which carried that in view of the importance of the proposed paving and school bond issue now pending that President Cole appoint a committee of two from each block to urge a full vote before the polls close at 7 p. m. Tuesday.

Business Manager Athletics. Secretary S. E. Eberstadt stated that he had been appointed and requested to serve as business manager of the Bryan High School Athletic Association and that he could not accept such appointment without the approval of the Chamber of Commerce. Motion unanimously carried that Secretary Eberstadt be given a leave of absence to serve in this capacity during the 1922-23 season.

DELIVERED IN BRYAN

Rev. Walton R. Cole, a theological student at the Louisville (Ky.) Seminary preached a sermon at the First Methodist church of Bryan in the absence of Rev. H. C. Willis, the pastor, Sunday morning. This was Mr. Cole's first sermon in the home of his nativity. He took for his text: "The Resurrection—And He that Believeth on Me Shall Never Die." Mr. Cole handled the subject in a masterly way bringing home the greatest truths to the hearts and consciences of men and women—that Jesus Christ was being crucified by a sin cursed world the same today as when he died nearly 2000 years ago on the cross to satisfy the demands of the criminal rabble of that day. At the close of the sermon many went up to the altar to shake his hand and wish Mr. Cole God-speed in the ministry.

Supt. C. M. Bethany of the Methodist Sunday school presided over the services and introduced Mr. Cole. He spoke of his boyhood days in Bryan having been born and reared here and said that he was an ideal boy and good student. In acknowledging the kind words of Mr. Bethany the young man said perhaps some of his boyhood friends were surprised to see him in the pulpit but he was just as much surprised to see them out in the pews. It was a happy helpful service. Walton Cole is related to the Cole family of Brazos county and was reared by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cole, in our town. He graduated in Bryan High School, went to Worlds War and graduated at the State University and is now at the Southern Baptist Seminary at Louisville, Kentucky, and will soon graduate there. His work has been an inspiration and in wishing Mr. Cole great success many persons took pleasure in commending Mr. and Mrs. Cole for their interest in aiding him in becoming a great educated stalwart Christian man to give the world a real service that will live through time.

ROBERTSON COUNTY HAS 22 INDICTMENTS

Franklin, Texas, July 10.—The Robertson county grand jury has adjourned after a five days session returning into court 22 true bills of indictment, being 13 felonies and nine misdemeanors. Of the felony indictments returned there is one charge of burglary, two of thefts of hogs and 10 of violation of the liquor laws.

The noticeable feature of the grand jury's work was its failure to find a single indictment for murder or any other capital offense. On the whole, crime seems to be very much on the decrease in this county.

Brazos River Flood Control Meeting Held at Cameron

(Dallas-Galveston News)

Cameron, Texas, July 8.—Noah did his best toward the people. He was the first flood preventionist on record, but the best he could do was to get his own family and some dumb beasts into the Ark. The rest of the populace drowned. Since that time human nature has changed little according to Colonel Tom S. Henderson, Sr., of Cameron, in the opening address of a remarkable meeting here last night held to spread the gospel of flood control in the Brazos River watershed.

Flood after flood in the Brazos Valley has failed to convince the average farmer that he can do anything to prevent another and that it is high time he was doing it, but the Brazos River Reclamation Association formed at Bryan a few weeks ago is spreading its organization up the river a county at a time, and will organize the whole Brazos watershed, eight hundred miles long, for a comprehensive scheme of flood prevention. Last night's meeting was held with the Cameron Commercial Club. Eight experts, most of them engineers, addressed the meeting. The remarks of each of them would be well worth printing in full but the meeting lasted until nearly midnight from 8 o'clock.

A. D. Jackson, of the experiment station at A. and M. College, secretary of the Brazos River Reclamation Association, presided after the chair was turned over to him by President Robert McLane of the Commercial Club. He spoke first and was followed by Lee J. Rountree, publisher and legislator, of Bryan, and one of the organizers of the association gave a history of the work to the present time. Arthur A. Stiles, state reclamation engineer, A. S. Dunlap, of the state board of water engineers, C. C. Ellsworth of the United States Geological Survey, S. C. Hoyle, editor of publications for the extension service of A. and M. College, Mr. J. D. Tinsley of the Santa Fe Railroad, Luther A. Johnson, unopposed democratic candidate for congress in this district, Garrett E. King, of Taylor and Judge Henderson.

Position of Farmer
"The farmer will tell you flatly that the floods can never be controlled," Mr. Jackson said. "His is the only opposition to the project, but if it can be proved to him that a profit can be made by a reclamation and control system, he can be enlisted. It is our purpose to convince him. Seventy-four counties are drained or partly drained by the Brazos. The water is a valuable asset, as valuable in all the state as its oil resources. For forty years the people have stood idly by while their crops and live stock have been washed away and hundreds of lives lost," Lee J. Rountree declared in his speech.

History of the Association.
Mr. Rountree told of going to Governor Neff with Mr. King, Mr. E. H. Astin and Mr. Henderson after the last September's disaster to ask him to urge flood control legislation on the special session of the legislature then contemplated. The governor was favorable. Then came the two floods of this spring. The governor now states that one of his chief concerns if re-elected, will be flood control measures. Mr. Rountree, a member of the appropriation committee of the legislature, suggested that all interested combine to lay the matter before that committee and get an appropriation for a topographical survey of the whole Brazos watershed. This would be immensely valuable in many other ways besides flood control and would be the first essential of a workable plan and lay the foundation for work for all time.

"Engineers say levees adequate to control floods are not wholly feasible at many points on the Brazos," said Mr. Stiles, "and Milam County happens to be one of them." He said that by taking 10 to 12 feet off the top of the terrile rises, he believes the whole lower river can be protected absolutely by levees. Taking off that surplus can be done by terracing farm land in the hills and by building dams and reservoirs to impound the runoff from heavy rains. That is no wild dream, he added. The land owner in the hills is as much interested as the farmer further down who is flooded, for the first is watching his best soil wash down to the Gulf of Mexico. First get your topographical survey, then lay your plans, he concluded.

Co-Operation Needed.
Flood control so far has not been much of a success, declared Mr. Dunlap, because of lack of adequate information and of proper co-operation. It has been treated as a local affair whereas it is really a watershed affair extending clear across the state.

He cited figures warning that they are only rough estimates to show that 1,000,000 to 1,500,000 acres of rich land between Waco and the Gulf is subject to flood, and would be increased in value by at least $50 an acre if insured against overflow. The water board has been able with the meager data available to locate reservoirs to impound 7,000,000-acre feet of water in the upper Brazos. If it could hold back only 3,000,000-acre feet the channel and levees would hold the rest of the water. The average cost of these reservoirs, he estimated at $10 an acre foot of water contained. To impound 3,000,000-acre feet would cost only $30,000,000. The people would get back some $50,000,000 in increased land values, $50,000,000 in water power created, and perhaps $10,000,000 in irrigation water. The state in increased taxes would get $50,000 a year, he estimated, and in less than three years this would repay the cost of the topographical survey of the whole Brazos system.

Judge Henderson, summing up the meeting, termed it extraordinary in the array of expert opinion brought together and predicted it would bear much fruit. He paid high tribute to the News group of newspapers particularly and others in the state which are urging upon the people a concerted move that will remove the flood menace and make an asset of what is now a heavy liability.

GOV. NEFF HAS CALLED A CONFERENCE OF ENGINEERS

Most Important Conference In a Generation At Austin On August 7—To Deal With The Flood Situation On The Brazos, Trinity, Colorado and Other Texas Rivers.

Austin, Tex., July 10.—Governor Neff today issued a call for a conference of engineers to be held in Austin Monday, August 7th, to consider the ways and means of obtaining the necessary data preliminary to flood control in Texas as well as the impounding and conservation of storm waters for irrigation and power purposes. He is to be aided in the conference by State Reclamation Engineer Arthur A. Stiles, and members of the State Board of Water Engineers, John C. Norris, C. S. Clark and A. H. Dunlap, who have actively undertaken the important work of getting information absolutely necessary in planning to prevent overflows and saving the flood waters. They desire and need the aid of the best engineers of the State in this movement, and the Governor is sending a personal invitation to more than 250 engineers to attend the Austin conference. Arthur P. Davis, head of the United States Reclamation Service at Washington, D. C., will be invited and will probably be present, as well as a personal representative of George Otis Smith, director of the United States Geological Survey. The deans of engineering of the Texas Colleges are invited to be present, as well as district levee engineers and other engineers well known in their profession. It is to be strictly a meeting of technical men to consider the problem of accumulating the data on which to proceed with the work of flood prevention and conservation.

Unit Plan To Be Considered.

In the plans ahead the State is to be considered as a whole and then divided into units consisting of the various watersheds, Brazos, Colorado, Trinity, Guadalupe, San Antonio and others. It is the hope of the water board to see many dams and impounding reservoirs created to store the flood waters and prevent inundation of the low lands and devastation in the cities located adjacent to streams as well as the storing of this water for power and irrigation. Levees are also included in the plan to insure against overflows. The coming session is to consider best methods of obtaining the data showing the proper locations for dams reservoirs and other works in the program of flood prevention.

Governor Neff has written to the engineers as follows: "Within the last twelve months the swollen streams of Texas have destroyed many valuable lives and have caused property damage in excess of twenty millions of dollars. At the same time these streams have poured into the Gulf of Mexico enough water to irrigate millions of acres of semi-arid land, and to generate hundreds of thousands of horsepower for industrial purposes. "Within the next twelve months we might have a recurrence of these flood conditions, or just as likely we might have insufficient water for our cities and for the relatively few acres at present under irrigation. A supine toleration of these conditions is indefensible. Always an ardent advocate of the control and economic utilization of our public waters and of the reclamation of our overflow and arid lands and of the conservation of our waters for municipal use, for power, irrigation, mining and stock raising, I have determined now active steps shall be taken to make these waters a source of great wealth and joy to our people instead of the menace they now too often are.

"The accomplishment of this purpose is no small undertaking. N State of the Union has heretofore proposed so comprehensive a scheme; the whole state is affected and the whole state must act as a unit in order to bring about the highest results. To enable a proper solution of this problem certain fundamental data must be gathered; the flow of streams must be measured, topographical surveys must be made in order to point out suitable places for levees and impounding reservoirs.

Depending On Engineers.

"For securing these data and for laying the plans that will make the work a success we must depend on our engineers. The problem is big enough to compel every patriotic engineer to lend his services. May not the State have the benefit of your advice and consultation in a meeting of engineers to be held in the Capitol, Austin, at 10 a. m. on the 7th of August, with the State Reclamation Department and the Board of Water Engineers for a general consideration of the engineering problems involved in the undertaking and for the formation of a program that will insure the utmost economy in securing the data necessary to plan this great work of conservation?"

The following visiting Masons were present at the ceremonies: Geo. L. Dickey, College; Lee J. Rountree, A. G. Neely, Roy Hupsh, D. D. Williams, G. A. Long, Bryan; L. B. Simpson, Millican; T. A. The following visiting ladies were present at the barbecue and dinner given by the people of Wellborn Mesdames J. D. Martin, D. D. Williamson, E. W. Price, Lee J. Rountree, H. E. Randolph, W. F. Brazos River Flood Control Meeting Held at Cameron

(Dallas-Galveston News)

Cameron, Texas, July 8.—Noah did his best toward the people. He was the first flood preventionist on record, but the best he could do was to get his own family and some dumb beasts into the Ark. The rest of the populace drowned. Since that time human nature has changed little, according to Colonel Tom S. Henderson, Sr., of Cameron, in the opening address of a remarkable meeting here last night held to spread the gospel of flood control in the Brazos River watershed.

Flood after flood in the Brazos Valley has failed to convince the average farmer that he can do anything to prevent another and that it is high time he was doing it, but the Brazos River Reclamation Association formed at Bryan a few weeks ago is spreading its organization up the river a county at a time, and will organize the whole Brazos watershed, eight hundred miles long, for a comprehensive scheme of flood prevention. Last night's meeting was held with the Cameron Commercial Club. Eight experts, most of them engineers, addressed the meeting. The remarks of each of them would be well worth printing in full but the meeting lasted until nearly midnight from 8 o'clock.

A. D. Jackson, of the experiment station at A. and M. College, secretary of the Brazos River Reclamation Association, presided after the chair was turned over to him by President Robert McLane of the Commercial Club. He spoke first and was followed by Lee J. Rountree, publisher and legislator, of Bryan, and one of the organizers of the association gave a history of the work to the present time. Arthur A. Stiles, state reclamation engineer, A. S. Dunlap, of the state board of water engineers, C. C. Ellsworth of the United States Geological Survey, S. C. Hoyle, editor of publications for the extension service of A. and M. College, Mr. J. D. Tinsley of the Santa Fe Railroad, Luther A. Johnson, unopposed democratic candidate for congress in this district, Garrett E. King of Taylor and Judge Henderson.

Position of Farmer
"The farmer will tell you flatly that the floods can never be controlled," Mr. Jackson said. "His is the only opposition to the project, but if it can be proved to him that a profit can be made by a reclamation and control system, he can be enlisted. It is our purpose to convince him. Seventy-four counties are drained or partly drained by the Brazos. The water is a valuable asset, as valuable in all the state as its oil resources. For forty years the people have stood idly by while their crops and live stock have been washed away and hundreds of lives lost," Lee J. Rountree declared in his speech.

History of the Association.
Mr. Rountree told of going to Governor Neff with Mr. King, Mr. E. H. Astin and Mr. Henderson after the last September's disaster to ask him to urge flood control legislation on the special session of the legislature then contemplated. The governor was favorable. Then came the two floods of this spring. The governor now states that one of his chief concerns if re-elected, will be flood control measures. Mr. Rountree, a member of the appropriation committee of the legislature, suggested that all interested combine to lay the matter before that committee and get an appropriation for a topographical survey of the whole Brazos watershed. This would be immensely valuable in many other ways besides flood control and would be the first essential of a workable plan and lay the foundation for work for all time.

"Engineers say levees adequate to control floods are not wholly feasible at many points on the Brazos," said Mr. Stiles, "and Milam County happens to be one of them." He said that by taking 10 to 12 feet off the top of the terrific rises, he believes the whole lower river can be protected absolutely by levees. Taking off that surplus can be done by terracing farm land in the hills and by building dams and reservoirs to impound the runoff from heavy rains. That is no wild dream, he added. The land owner in the hills is as much interested as the farmer further down who is flooded, for the first is watching his best soil wash down to the Gulf of Mexico. First get your topographical survey, then lay your plans, he concluded.

Co-Operation Needed.
Flood control so far has not been much of a success, declared Mr. Dunlap, because of lack of adequate information and of proper co-operation. It has been treated as a local affair whereas it is really a watershed affair extending clear across the state.

He cited figures warning that they are only rough estimates to show that 1,000,000 to 1,500,000 acres of rich land between Waco and the Gulf is subject to flood, and would be increased in value by at least $50 an acre if insured against overflow. The water board has been able with the meager data available to locate reservoirs to impound 7,000,000-acre feet of water in the upper Brazos. If it could hold back only 3,000,000-acre feet the channel and levees would hold the rest of the water. The average cost of these reservoirs, he estimated at $10 an acre foot of water contained. To impound 3,000,000-acre feet would cost only $30,000,000. The people would get back some $50,000,000 in increased land values, $50,000,000 in water power created, and perhaps $10,000,000 in irrigation water. The state in increased taxes would get $50,000 a year, he estimated, and in less than three years this would repay the cost of the topographical survey of the whole Brazos system.

Judge Henderson, summing up the meeting, termed it extraordinary in the array of expert opinion brought together and predicted it would bear much fruit. He paid high tribute to the News group of newspapers particularly and others in the state which are urging upon the people a concerted move that will remove the flood menace and make an asset of what is now a heavy liability.

It is to be strictly a meeting of technical men to consider the problem of accumulating the data on which to proceed with the work of flood prevention and conservation.

Unit Plan To Be Considered.
In the plans ahead the State is to be considered as a whole and then divided into units consisting of the various watersheds, Brazos, Colorado, Trinity, Guadalupe, San Antonio and others. It is the hope of the water board to see many dams and impounding reservoirs created to store the flood waters and prevent inundation of the low lands and devastation in the cities located adjacent to streams as well as the storing of this water for power and irrigation. Levees are also included in the plan to insure against overflows. The coming session is to consider best methods of obtaining the data showing the proper locations for dams reservoirs and other works in the program of flood prevention.

Governor Neff has written to the engineers as follows: "Within the last twelve months the swollen streams of Texas have destroyed many valuable lives and have caused property damage in excess of twenty millions of dollars. At the same time these streams have poured into the Gulf of Mexico enough water to irrigate millions of acres of semi-arid land, and to generate hundreds of thousands of horsepower for industrial purposes. "Within the next twelve months we might have a recurrence of these flood conditions, or just as likely we might have insufficient water for our cities and for the relatively few acres at present under irrigation. A supine toleration of these conditions is indefensible. Always an ardent advocate of the control and economic utilization of our public waters and of the reclamation of our overflow and arid lands and of the conservation of our waters for municipal use, for power, irrigation, mining and stock raising, I have determined now active steps shall be taken to make these waters a source of great wealth and joy to our people instead of the menace they now too often are.

"The accomplishment of this purpose is no small undertaking. The State of the Union has heretofore proposed so comprehensive a scheme; the whole state is affected and the whole state must act as a unit in order to bring about the highest results. To enable a proper solution of this problem certain fundamental data must be gathered; the flow of streams must be measured, topographical surveys must be made in order to point out suitable places for levees and impounding reservoirs.

Depending On Engineers.
"For securing these data and for laying the plans that will make the work a success we must depend on our engineers. The problem is big enough to compel every patriotic citizen to lend his services. May not the State have the benefit of your advice and consultation in a meeting of engineers to be held in the Capitol, Austin, at 10 a. m. on the 7th of August, with the State Reclamation Department and the Board of Water Engineers for a general consideration of the engineering problems involved in the undertaking and for the formation of a program that will insure the utmost economy in securing the data necessary to plan this great work of conservation?"

"Let us never forget that the cultivation of the earth is the most important labor of man. Unstable is the future of a country that has lost its taste for agriculture. If there is one lesson of history which is unmistakable it is that national strength lies very near the soil."—Daniel Webster. It is singular that agriculture, recognized so long as the basic industry, should have survived without plan or policy or organization so fundamental in the life and progress of all other industries. But farmers and business men alike are beginning to realize the effects of the neglect of agriculture. All have learned—poor marketing, etc., hurt not only the farmer but all business as well. Economists, agriculturalists, bankers, and journalists are outpouring for a better agriculture and business men everywhere are beginning to lend co-operation to what ever may be conducive to a better marketing system of farm products. We have encouraged the farmer to increase production, and he responded with faith of a child, with the result that his products gorge markets bringing disaster to him and stagnation to all business as well. The grandeur of farm life and the nobility of cultivating the soil make a poor text when facing an audience of people engaged in the basis industry of agriculture but who do not receive an equitable reward for their labor. The bankers of the country are perhaps taking the lead in recognition of this fact as was shown by a resolution recently passed by the Executive Council American Bankers Association in a meeting at White Sulphur Springs in May: "Recognizing agriculture as the basis industry of the nation and that full prosperity can not be restored until the farming class becomes prosperous, and knowing that the farmer suffers greatly from world depression, we hereby pledge ourselves to favor any economically sound measure that may be devised to finance the needs of the farmer for the orderly marketing of farm products."

In the Banker-Farmer, June, may be found the interesting address by Walter E. Sprecher, cashier of the State Bank of Independence, Wisconsin, before the Georgia bankers, who had asked that Mr. Sprecher come down and tell them about Wisconsin's cows. Mr. Sprecher said that "the states that have had dairying developed most successfully have felt the deflation least and to that degree in which dairying has been developed. Collections are better in dairy states mortgages and notes are paid more promptly, the farmer receives money from 12 to 14 times a year—he has a sure return, land values have fallen less, consequently the banks are on a more stable basis—money is freer, bank failures are less. Bankers and financiers recognize Wisconsin as the most stable state in the Union. During the year there have been 565 bank failures in the United States of which Wisconsin has had none to date, and the one-crop states head the list of bank failures." Time and time again we have heard of the poor red, unprofitable hills of Wisconsin.

Two year ago, the 11th of June, the writer observed the business and professional men of Timmon and Center close their places of business and with teams, tractors, scrapers, etc., worked practically the 17 mile stretch of road between the two towns. In this, however, no farmers at all were helping, the farmers being busy in the fields.

Some say we need no rain, but the continuous winds are hastening evaporation and already cotton and late corn are beginning to wilt. The farmer who planted Surcropper or other early maturing varieties of corn, is feeling better than the one whose corn is yet to make.

This dry weather can be used to good advantage on Bermuda and Johnson grass patches of which there are many throughout the county. Mr. E. J. Fountain is doing some fine work in the Brazos bottom killing out a large field of Johnson grass. The field will be in excellent condition for cultivation next year.

Mr. J. D. Martin, chairman of the agricultural committee, Chamber of Commerce, will call his committee together soon to make definite plans for our county fair. In the meantime plan your farm exhibits of corn, poultry, livestock, etc.

On last Saturday club members from Steep Hollow, Smetana and Tabor went to College for instruction in poultry judging. It is hoped that each club in the county will have a team in the contest during the Short Course.

(Navasota Examiner-Review)
At a regular meeting of the Knights of Pythias held June 22nd, Mr. Geo. E. Hadley was one of a number of unexpected guests from Bryan. Members present, knowing Brother Hadley's unrivaled ability for extemporaneous speaking seized upon the opportunity to present a gold service emblem, indicative of twenty-five years faithful service provided by admiring friends, members of the local lodge to Brother Ward Templeman, Brother Hadley, without a moments preparation, discharged this duty with an address, which for appropriateness and beauty, was probably never equaled at a like occasion certainly surpassing in charming rhetoric any previous address those present had ever heard. It is regretted this superb address was not reduced to writing that it might be enjoyed by the reading public, but it was only after Mr. Hadley had preceded some time that it occurred to one to take notes of the address and it is because of this one's thoughtfulness that a part of what Mr. Hadley said is preserved. He said in part: "One of the pleasant occasions of my life is when I can lay the well deserved flowers of friendship and love at the feet of one whose life has been spared to receive them. 'Another great pleasure is to be able to repeat to the living the many beautiful tributes of esteem that I hear in my every day mingling with people, but to my mind the greatest quality for good that I possess, the one that ability to appreciate, love and revere one in whom I find those qualities which go to make up a man such as we find in Navasota Lodge No. 17, K. of P. 'It has been my good fortune of late years to speak to many audiences in different states, upon different subjects and under almost every circumstance, but never have I been called upon to perform a duty which gave me more genuine joy than the one assigned me tonight, for I am to pay a tribute of love to one whose life is recorded in deeds, not in words; my admiration for a faith which needs no other profession than its living; my confidence in a religion which knows the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man. 'I am to rejoice with you, my brother Knights, that it is our privilege to come in daily contact with such a life and even now a feeling of sadness overcomes me when I contemplate the time when his earthly existence shall be no more. How we love him for his many qualities: heading not the criticisms of the vast throngs but ever ready to reach down and pull fallen man to a higher plane and ever looking upward for an opportunity to push rising man up higher still. He finds his greatest pleasure in serving his friends and humanity. Is it any wonder that we cling to such a man and honor ourselves by calling him brother, and it is not naturally that the knowledge of such qualities should and their way into the hearts and minds of those who are many miles removed from his own home city? Such my brothers, is the case here to night and is the strongest admonition to us to obey that Divine injunction to cast your bread upon the waters and after many days it shall return to you fourfold." for I hold in my hand one of the most beautiful jewels upon which my eyes have ever fallen, attesting twenty-five years of faithful and unselfish service for the good of the order, bearing the seal of the approval from the Supreme Lodge, the stamp of merit from the Grand Lodge of the Domain of Texas, the love and affection of Brazos Lodge No. 64 and presented with fondest devotion to Ward Templeman, from Navasota Lodge No. 17, K. of P."

BRAZOS COUNTY BOYS AND GIRLS CLUB DEPT.

"Let us never forget that the cultivation of the earth is the most important labor of man. Unstable is the future of a country that has lost its taste for agriculture. If there is one lesson of history which is unmistakable it is that national strength lies very near the soil."—Daniel Webster. It is singular that agriculture, recognized so long as the basic industry, should have survived without plan or policy or organization so fundamental in the life and progress of all other industries. But farmers and business men alike are beginning to realize the effects of the neglect of agriculture. All have learned—learning, that crop failures—poor marketing, etc., hurt not only the farmer but all business as well. Economists, agriculturalists, bankers, and journalists are outspoken for a better agriculture and business men everywhere are beginning to lend co-operation to what ever may be conducive to a better marketing system of farm products. We have encouraged the farmer to increase production, and he responded with faith of a child, with the result that his products gorge markets bringing disaster to him and stagnation to all business as well. The grandeur of farm life and the nobility of cultivating the soil make a poor text when facing an audience of people engaged in the basis industry of agriculture but who do not receive an equitable reward for their labor. The bankers of the country are perhaps taking the lead in recognition of this fact as was shown by a resolution recently passed by the Executive Council American Bankers Association in a meeting at White Sulphur Springs in May: "Recognizing agriculture as the basis industry of the nation and that full prosperity can not be restored until the farming class becomes prosperous, and knowing that the farmer suffered greatly from world depression, we hereby pledge ourselves to favor any economically sound measure that may be devised to finance the needs of the farmer for the orderly marketing of farm products."

In the Banker-Farmer, June, may be found the interesting address by Walter E. Sprecher, cashier of the State Bank of Independence, Wisconsin, before the Georgia bankers, who had asked that Mr. Sprecher come down and tell them about Wisconsin's cows. Mr. Sprecher said that "the states that have had dairying developed most successfully have felt the deflation least and to that degree in which dairying has been developed. Collections are better in dairy states mortgages and notes are paid more promptly, the farmer receives money from 12 to 14 times a year—he has a sure return, land values have fallen less, consequently the banks are on a more stable basis—money is freer, bank failures are less. Bankers and financiers recognize Wisconsin as the most stable state in the Union. During the year there have been 565 bank failures in the United States of which Wisconsin has had none to date, and the one-crop states head the list of bank failures." Time and time again we have heard of the poor red, unprofitable hills of Wisconsin.

ABSENTEE VOTING NEW TEXAS LAW

Austin, Tex., July 12.—From the number of inquiries being received by the attorney general's department, it is apparent that many voters in Texas are not cognizant of the amendment passed at the regular session of the Thirty-seventh legislature to the absentee voting law. This amendment permits an absentee voter to vote through the assistance of a notary public. Not more than twenty nor less than ten days before the date of an election, the voter, according to this amendment, shall make his personal appearance before a notary public and deliver his poll tax receipt to that official who shall send it to the county clerk in the county in which the elector resides. The county clerk then, after verification of the poll tax receipt, shall mail to the elector one ballot which is not to be opened by the elector except in the presence of a notary public. When this is done the elector casts his vote and it is sent by the notary public back to the county clerk of the county in which the elector resides. The county clerk on the day of the election sends the ballot to the judge of the precinct for which it is intended and there voted. It is expected that many absentee voters will take advantage of this new provision of the law. Assistant Attorney General L. C. Sutton said that the department has been receiving a number of inquiries relative to this new feature of the absentee voting law. Tickets for the July 22 primaries can be secured by a notary public on July 2 or twenty days before the election.
